

GALVESTON, TX - Spectacular prizes will be given away at the 31st Annual Galveston Home & Garden Show, September 7 – 8, at the Galveston Island Convention Center at the San Luis. In addition to hourly drawings both days of the event, Grand Prizes to be awarded on Sunday, will include a custom made chicken coop by The Garden Hen and a full size pergola built by Dyne Contracting.

Michael Graham of The Garden Hen will construct the chicken coop at the Home & Garden Show on Saturday, and it will be completed on Sunday for the drawing. The winner can load it up and take it home on Sunday or make arrangements for delivery. Construction of the pergola can be followed on the Galveston Home & Garden Show face book page and online at www.galvestonhomeandgardenshow.com. Shane Dysarz, owner of Dyne Contracting, who designed and built the pergola, will arrange for delivery and installation at the winner's home. The raffle drawing is free to enter with entry to the show. Visitors are encouraged to visit each project at the show prior to the drawings.

The Galveston Home & Garden Show features vendors who will offer show discounts on goods and services and professional speakers including Brenda Beust Smith, The Lazy Gardener; Janice Stokes Neumann, Usborne Books & More, who will offer reading time for kids ages elementary school and younger, on Saturday, 10:30 am; Ted Driscoll, Galveston Bay Foundation; DeWayne Ross, Wedding Bliss Events; Connie Dryden, Boutique Bridal Group and Island Flowers; The Garden Hen; Concetta Maceo; and Baxter Williams, expert Rosarian. Fun for the entire family, kid's areas will include Artist Boat, Beach Barrel Painting, the Green Gallery where you can meet feathered guests, and the Galveston Island Humane Society Pet Adoption Center. There is something for all ages. Come and spend the day exploring and learning. From antiques and saunas, to windows and hemp products, it is all here. Please join us. It's more than an event, it's an experience.

Admission is $8 Adults, Seniors $6, 4 & Under Free. Complimentary parking and raffle entries. Food court and ATM available. For more information and additional raffle entry opportunity go to www.galvestonhomeandgardenshow.com.
